VIDEO CONFERENCE OR TELEPHONE MEDIATION SERVICES

The recent Federal Government announcements and the Victorian governments 'State of Emergency' regarding the expanding Coronavirus, have now generated the need for a responsible and appropriate response from professional services bodies and individuals' lawyer/ mediators such as myself and organisations I am involved with.

Accordingly, in order to protect myself and all parties with whom I engage with, I advise that as from now until the Federal and State authorities advise otherwise, I will NOT be conducting any face to face mediations and will be conducting mediations through Video and Telephone Conference facilities. Most of you will have video conference facilities in your offices or on your computers and this is a simple safe process.

As disputes and litigation processes continue through the current pandemic conditions, we need to adapt and use intelligent and secure technological solutions that enable us to conduct processes required.

Kindest regards,

Alan Wein LL.B
